OurSIRDA submits plan to tap into READI fund

BY BOB DEMAREE

Hoping to tap into a $50 million in Regional Economic Acceleration and Development Initiative (READI) fund, the Our Southern Indiana Regional Development Authority (OurSIRDA) submitted its plan for that money on Wednesday — a day earlier than the Sept. 30 deadline — and will now await to see which local proposals are funded.

"We wanted to be first in line and let us set the bar early," said Wendy Dant Cheeser, president and chief executive officer of One Southern Indiana Chamber of Commerce and facilitator for OurSIRDA, which includes Clark, Floyd, Jefferson, Scott and Washington counties.

OurSIRDA actually submitted $85 million in projects. "We didn't total it up, but each of the projects includes a READI funding amount," said Chesser. "I believe the total would be around $85 million in READI requests."

Chesser said she knows the proposals OurSIRDA submitted far exceed the $50 million the Indiana Economic Development Corporation (IEDC) has allocated for each of 10 regions that will share about $500 million in statewide funding, but the process is competitive and the proposals deserved their shot at funding.

She had noted at an OurSIRDA's meeting on June 4 that Mark Wasky, vice president of Innovation and Strategic Initiatives for the Indiana Economic Development Corporation, had said they should not "limit our ask because they may be able to allocate other state funds for certain projects."

For example, for a trail project, it's possible that might fit

Bicycle rider charged with posseion fleeing

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison Police charged an adult male bicycle rider with attempting to flee and possession of methamphetamine in connection with an incident that took place Sunday on Madison's hilltop.

Dillon A.M. Youngblood

Patrolman Curtis Shelpman attempted to conduct a traffic stop on a male bicycle rider later identified as Steven Austin Withrow, 44, of Madison, after the man was observed riding the bicycle in the roadway after dark with no head lamp or rear reflector. As Shelpman attempted to stop Withrow, he allegedly attempted to flee on the bicycle, cutting between nearby buildings.

Shelpman observed Withrow reaching into the front waistband of his pants as he cut between businesses located near the intersection of Clifty Drive and Michigan Road. Shortly after that, MPD Lt. Season Jackson was able to take Withrow into custody and a container with suspected methamphetamine was located in the area where Withrow was taken into custody.

Withrow is facing charges including Possession of Methamphetamine, a level 6 felony, and Resisting Law Enforcement by Fleeing, a Class A misdemeanor. He was lodged in the Jefferson County Jail without bond.

Elsewhere, Jefferson County Sheriff's Deputy Laura Pickel on Sunday located and arrested a local man wanted on warrant for Dealing in Methamphetamine, a Level 2 felony.

The charge stems from an investigation conducted by MPD Detective Kyle Cutshall, in which Youngblood was the target of an alleged controlled drug purchase. Cutshaw was assisted by Detectives Ricky Harris, Shawn Scudder and Patrol Officer Nichole Midgett.

Dillon A.M. Youngblood, 29, of Madison, was arrested and lodged in the Jefferson County Jail on a $100,00 cash bond.

Youngblood had an active arrest warrant for dealing methamphetamine, a level two felony.

Previously, a Hanover man was arrested on Friday and charged with battery of a child less than 14 years old and disorderly conduct.

Police were responding to an incident in the 500 block of Rainbow Lane in which a man reportedly pushed a child to the ground. Upon arrival they found the suspect, Richard L. Scudder Jr., 41, Hanover, intoxicated and arrested him for battery of the child-two counts, a Level 6 felony, and disorderly conduct, a Class B misdemeanor. Scudder was lodged in the Jefferson County Jail without bond.

the Next Level Trails program that's offered by the Department of Natural Resources, and that could open doors for that type of funding. Additionally, she said "the same could be said for infrastructure programs, such as broadband and wastewater, and perhaps housing developments."

In other words, Chesser said there's is the possibility that if funding for some of the region's projects is not received through READI, funding could possibly come from another state agency.

Along with IEDC's offices at 1 North Capitol in Indianapolis, there are other nearby state agencies Chesser said IEDC could literally "walk across the street" to share the project proposals.

OurSIRDA submitted projects that should leverage $1 billion in public and private project funding with 8% READI funds, 15% public funds and 77% private funds. The projected outcomes cited for the region would be 58,000 new residents attracted to the region, 13,100 new jobs both direct and indirect, $56 million in new one-time tax revenues, $20 million new annual tax revenues from continued operations, 2,200 new housing units include in the plan, and $662 million additional economic output due to the spending in the region.

OurSIRDA's proposed projects include several involving Jefferson County. "This is a very exciting time for Madison and Jefferson County," said Madison Mayor Bob Courtney. "Our economic development plans are very ambitious and transformative for the community."

OurSIRDA outlines its plan with six goals that include 18 projects.

The Destinations goal includes three projects — Star Valley Event Center at Borden Community Park, Destination Madison and Southern Indiana Youth Sports Complex in Scott County.

The Destination Madison plan cites building projects that make Madison a regional destination and improve the quality of place, including the Mulberry Street Arts Corridor and Neighborhood Market, Indiana Music City Amphitheater and the Milton-Madison Bridge Gateway followed by the Ohio Theatre and the Riverfront Super Overlook.

The Workforce and Entrepreneurism goal includes a Veterinary Teaching Center in Jefferson County, expansion of the River Ridge Learning Center in Jeffersonville, the One Fund that provides small business lending in the region, and the Sellersburg Family Scholar House for an affordable housing-workforce development partnership.

The Veterinary Teaching Center is a collaboration with Hanover College and Ivy Tech Madison that would establish southern Indiana as a hub for innovation in veterinary medicine, agribusiness and bioscience.

Economic Development and Housing Sites goal includes building an entrepreneurial and laboratory space at the Novaparke and Technology Campus in Floyd County, generating mixed-use development at the South Clarksville riverfront, and workforce housing investment for both single and multi-family units.

The Natural Assets goal includes Origin Park in Jeffersonville by reshaping and healing an urban and blighted waterfront, and the Regional Trail Initiative that includes the South Monon Freedom Trail along the New Albany, Jeffersonville and Clarksville shorelines, Lake Salinda Trail that connects Lake Salinda and Salem, and the Hanover-Madison Connector Trail which links the town of Hanover and Hanover College to Clifty Falls State Park.

The Connections and Gateways goal includes a Commerce Connector from River Ridge to US 31, Sellersburg Town Center District to provide a destination experience along with high-density housing, Regional Broadband Readiness Plan, and Salem Municipal Airport improvements to hangar space and extension of utilities.

The infrastructure goals provide for Charlestown and Jeffersonville wastewater capacity expansion and completes wastewater plant capacity upgrades in Borden to support existing and planned tourism and residential.

IEDC is expected to make its decision in December on what 10 regions from the 18 submitting applications will receive funding.

"I am so proud of the partners within our region in delivering a READI plan which requests funding for 18 projects in Clark, Floyd, Jefferson, Scott and Washington Counties," Chesser said. "The RDA asked for the best ideas we had to offer, and our communities, developers and dreamers did not disappoint. If the State of Indiana is looking to maximize its return on the READI investment, they don't have to look any further than our region."

will be completed — the sealer is only being applied from Jefferson Street through the Crooked Creek Bridge — and Courtney anticipates lane and intersection striping to begin next week on Main Street from the west side of Jefferson Street to the top of Hanover Hill ending at State Road 62.

The $1 million project is intended to maintain the useful life of the roadway until 2026 when the city will receive funding to fully mill and repave Madison's Main Street.

In other business, the BPWS:

• Heard a report by Courtney that the city is in the midst of finalizing its 2022 budget, which he said will increase the number of police officers to 33 from the current staff of 31 with five part-time officers.

"This says a lot for our commitment to the public safety good," said Courtney, who expressed appreciation to the City Council for its commitment to investing in the additional two full-time officers.

Additionally, Courtney said the city will be conducing a water rate study as it works toward funding a proposed clean drinking water project.

• Approved closing the southbound lane on Broadway Street on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. between Main and Third streets for the Winter Farmers Market beginning Nov. 6 and ending Jan. 1.

Gina Johnson, Farmers Market manager, had asked that the weekly Saturday closure occur through March 26, but Courtney asked for data and more study to evaluate the closure. The mayor said he wants to consider other options, considering what might occur with the winter months, depending on weather conditions, and how many will participate when "closing a major street like Broadway."

Johnson said Farmers Market makes changes "as we need to," depending on challenging weather conditions, noting that's what was done this year during the summer. She said the Farmers Market will be closed Saturday, Dec. 25, because it is Christmas day.

Johnson noted there is increased interest in a Winter Farmers Market with 13 vendors currently pledging to participate. "I support and love the Farmers Market," said Courtney, which he expressed is one the oldest Farmers Markets in the state.

• Approved PACE midpoint awards to Michael Roark at 1035 West Main Street for repairing brick and putting up new siding at $12,500 and Linda Lytle at 416 St. Michaels Avenue for windows and a porch at $3,250. Approved final PACE awards to Donna Lytle at 1129 West Main Street for door and window repairs at $2,250 and Van Crafton for tuck pointing and gutter work at both 304 Broadway Street at $2,250 and 306 Broadway Street at $3,000.

• Approved a mutual operating agreement for use of Benjamin Flint's K9 when utilized by the city. Additionally, former full-time officer Brad Demaree was hired as a part-time officer. "We were sad to see him go, but we are glad to see him come back in this capacity," said Courtney.

Were my kids singled out?

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: In the 12 years since my first child was born (and two more children followed), our military family has yet to actually celebrate Christmas in our own home because we are always traveling to our families' homes, lest we hear from hurt grandparents bemoaning our absence.

Thus, every December, we have to balance the competing desires of two sets of grandparents who currently live six hours away from us in opposite directions (we're in the middle) and who will pour on the guilt about not seeing their grandchildren. Additionally, the rest of the year, we also must drop everything and make regular pilgrimages to see them, always on our dime.

While we love our parents and our children love their grandparents, my spouse and I have jobs, lives and are limited on time and resources. It's particularly galling when our two sets of retired parents, who are quite financially secure with plenty of time, demand that we must always be the visiting team.

Grandparents need to understand that, unless there is some overriding health or mobility concern, the road between their children and grandchildren goes both ways and they can make the trip occasionally. — Daughter on the Perpetually Visiting Team

Dear Perpetually Visiting Daughter: Thank you for your letter and for your family's service in our military. Your letter addresses a very important point. Every relationship is a two-way street and must remain balanced.

If you feel like you are doing all the traveling to see your mom, then tell her that. Communicate to her what you said in this letter. And as for all the grandparents reading this, maybe they will pack their bags today and start visiting their busy children and grandchildren.

Dear Annie: I'm sitting at this wedding writing to you because I was asked to get child care for this event, but everyone here brought their kids. My nephews, over whom I have custody, have disabilities, but they are well-behaved at public events like this.

I feel that I was purposely told not to include them, and I feel terrible because there are family photos at the end of this, and they will not be included. This is embarrassing.

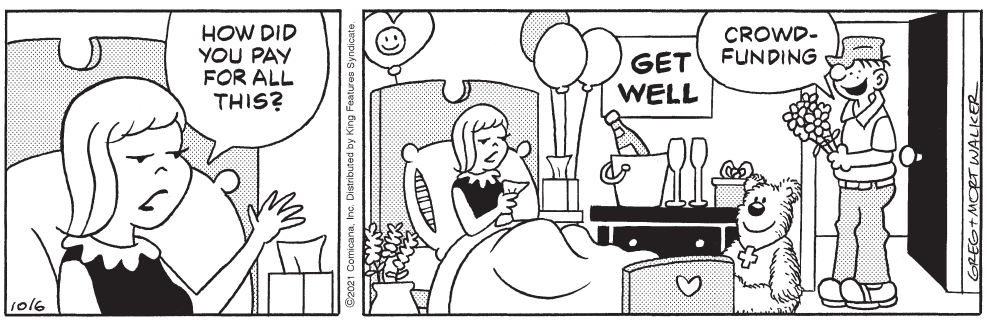

I care about my boys as if they were my own. I have no other children, and I feel so disappointed in my family for hiding them away. — Hurt Feelings

Dear Hurt: How someone treats you and your children says more about them than it does about you. If you know that your children behave well in public, just feel proud of the job you are doing, and continue to build them up.

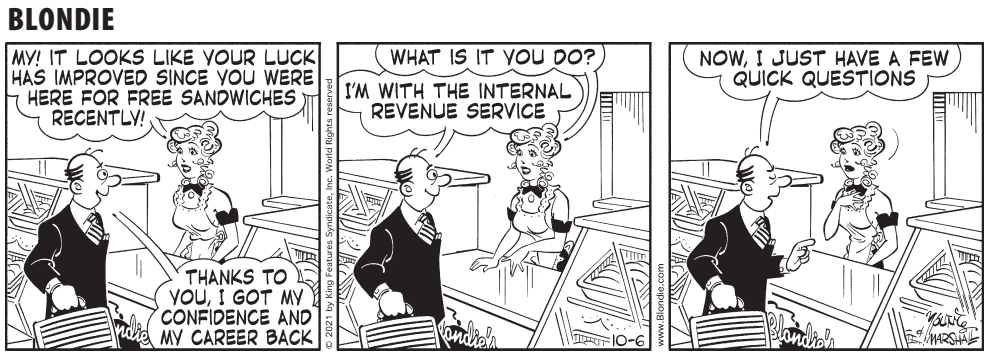

Don't write a narrative of the reasons why the bride and groom didn't invite your children to the wedding. Without having a conversation with the bride, you don't know what her thought process was in making the invitation list. Try to let it go, and do your best to forgive her for any hurt feelings. Congrats on doing such a great job with your nephews.

Controlling husband is cutting off my friends

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I'm currently in recovery. I have had two years of being clean and sober, after 13 long, miserable years of addiction. I have a full-time job that I love and am advancing, in my own place, and just live a good, "normal" life. I am quite happy in my current state and have made peace with my past. I've realized it was a tough lesson but one that has made me a better person today for having experienced it.

However, during my active addiction, I married someone who was also an addict. We had been friends for several years, and it just seemed to naturally progress to the point where we wanted to have a life together. Two weeks after we got married, both he and I went to jail.

I've since done my time and completely changed my life. My husband is still in prison. I have thought seriously about getting divorced, as we were both actively using throughout our entire relationship. He says he has changed and wants to live life without using, but I am terrified that he will get out and start getting high.

I don't want to live that lifestyle and am not willing to put my recovery in jeopardy. I can't even truly say I still love him, and he doesn't even know this new person that I have grown to become. Should I follow through with the divorce? Or see what happens when he gets out? — Recovering but Conflicted

Dear Recovering but Conflicted: When he says he has changed, what exactly does he mean? People speak louder with their actions than their words. Your recovery should remain your number one priority. Anything that takes you away from that has got to go, and if your husband will not stay sober, that means him as well.

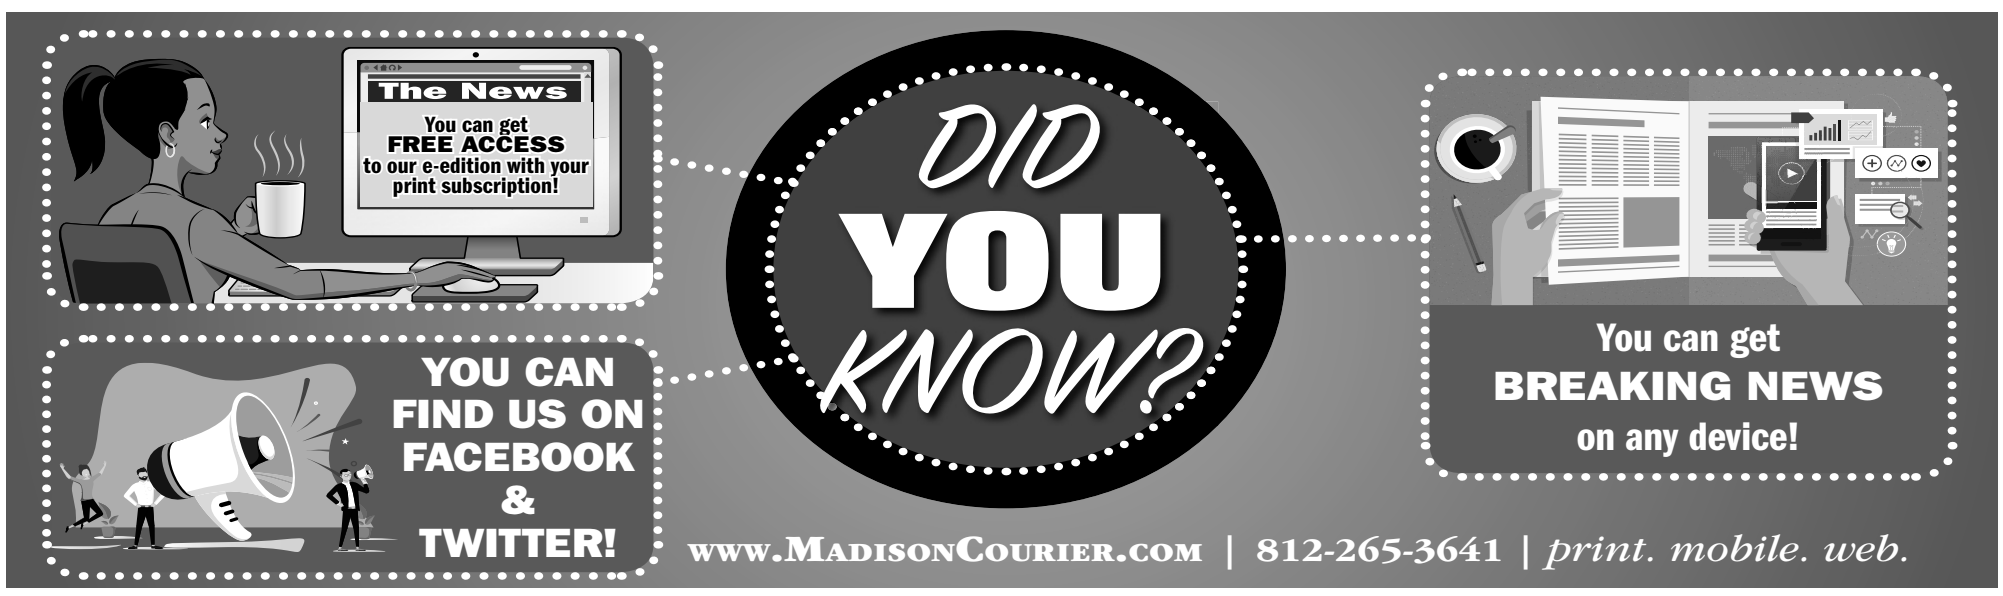

Dear Annie: I have to object to your language about how grandchildren "intuitively" love their grandparents in your note to "Family Scapegoat."

Unless the grandparents are the children's primary attachment, there is no reason for children to connect with them except as a reflection of the parent's relationship with the grandparents. Saying otherwise is outdated and not in line with attachment theory.

Parents should be allowed to cut unhealthy and unsafe relationships out of their children's lives — even if those relationships are familial. — Unimpressed by the Greatness

Dear Unimpressed: You are correct, and if a grandparent's behavior is unhealthy or unsafe, they should be kept away from their grandchildren. But if the issue is not so black and white, and the behavior is more annoying than unsafe, then the parents should set boundaries for the interactions rather than cut them off altogether.

Historic board creates panel to review new materials

BY MARK CAMPBELL

Madison's Historic Board of Review (HDBR) last week agreed to recommend establishing a six-member committee to conduct quarterly reviews of new materials that could be valuable assets for renovating and restoring historic structures in the city.

HDBR Chairman Josh Wilber noted that new products are continually entering the market — including new materials and new technologies — that could prove valuable in preserving the city's historic structures both aesthetically and in terms of functionality while helping to make repairs last longer, be more cost efficient and easier to complete.

"New materials come up a lot and I'd like to see a committee of contractors, board members and residents meet quarterly to review those materials and decide which could be considered appropriate for use," Wilber said.

He noted that would not only include new product lines that might fit in with the city's historic structures but also advancing technologies like 3D printing that might ease and expedite the reproduction of detailed components on historic buildings to recreate or preserve their appearance after damage by disaster or decay.

Wilber said the committee would search out and study new materials and make recommendations on which products are suitable for use in the historic district. The city currently has a list of approved replacement materials — products like Hardie Board Siding and aluminum clad windows — but when a contractor or property owner suggests a product not on that list but not necessarily disapproved, the process can bog down.

He said having a committee to research materials and products could expedite the process while still protecting the integrity of the historic district and allow those making improvements to move more quickly through the approval process.

"This would show we are committed to change and not set in our ways," Wilber said.

The board approved the recommendation with Ken McWilliams and Thomas Stark volunteering to represent HDBR on the six-member panel. The hope is to have other committee members in place by later this month so the group can hold its first meeting in November.

VMI hears festival, inn keepers tax reports

BY BOB DEMAREE

Lacking a quorum, Visit Madison Inc. met Monday morning to hear reports about the organization's events without taking an official action.

Board member Holly Magrath provided an update on the Madison Chautauqua Festival of Art.

"It went very well and we're very pleased. All the artisans were happy," she said, noting that although there were fewer artisans this year — about 150 compared the usual 200 — "it didn't make a difference in the crowds." She said the two-day event once again drew a large number of visitors to Madison.

Erin Kindle, who served as coordinator for the Madison Ribberfest BBQ & Blues Festival, has now also been named coordinator of the Nights Before Christmas Candlelight Tour of Homes, which will be Nov. 26-27, and Dec. 3-4. "We're really excited about it," said Kindle, who said she still seeking volunteers to help with event and that about 150 are needed.

So far this year total collections from the innkeepers tax in Jefferson County have topped $300,000 dollars after taking a hit in 2020 due to the COVID pandemic.

"We're having a record year with the innkeepers tax," said VMI board president Lucy Dattilo, noting that $301,492.75 had been collected so far and on pace to set collection records. Dattilo said the work of the VMI staff has been a contributing factor to that increase over previous years.

Versailles ISP post sees 2 veteran troopers retire after more than 30 years of service

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Two longtime veterans of the Indiana State Police and the Versailles Post retired recently after 34 and 32 years of service.

Pete Tressler

Tom Baxter

Sergeant Thomas Baxter, a 34-year veteran of the ISP-Versailles Post, worked his final shift in August while Detective/Trooper Peter Tressler, a 32-year veteran of the ISP-Versailles Post, worked his final shift on Sept. 30.

Baxter graduated from the 45th Indiana State Police Recruit Academy on Dec. 19, 1987. After completing the academy, he was assigned to the Versailles District where he was a road trooper from 1987-1997. In 1997, he was assigned to the Gaming Division where he conducted gaming enforcement on a casino located in the district. Sgt. Baxter returned to the Versailles District in 2000 and was selected to become a detective in the district in 2003. In 2011, Baxter was promoted to sergeant where he supervised a squad of detectives at the Versailles Post and remained in that position until his retirement.

During his career, Baxter served 10 years as an ISPe Diver. He was also trained as a Forensic Sketch Artist and served 11 years on the Southeast Indiana Crimes Against Children Board. In 1997, he was awarded the Superintendents Award for Outstanding Criminal Investigation.

Tressler graduated from the Indiana State Police Recruit Academy in November 1989. After completing the academy, he was assigned to the Connersville Post where he was a road trooper from 1989-1991. In 1991, Tressler transferred to the Versailles Post.

During his service at the Versailles Post between 1991 and 2005, Tressler worked as a road trooper and as a gaming enforcement agent. In 2005, Tressler was reassigned as a detective out of the Versailles Post and remained in that position until his retirement.

Last December Tressler received an award for his great working relationship with other agencies in his coverage area.

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Switzerland County's girls ran a dominating performance while Rising Sun's boys won the closest race in league history at the Ohio River Valley Conference Cross Country Championships at Hanover College on Saturday evening.

The Lady Pacers placed all five scorers on the all-conference team and just missed having a sixth to score 26 points and easily win the crown. Freshman Claire Rogers led the way for the Swiss, beating out favored Calli Alderman of Shawe and Lanie Nicholson of South Ripley to win the individual championship with an impressive time of 19:45.2. Alderman ran second in 20:24.6 while Nicholson was third in 20:35.4.

Gracie White, Amber Detmer and Alisha Detmer then crossed the line in succession for the Pacers with White running fifth in 22:10.8, Amber Detmer sixth in 22:20.4, and Alisha Detmer seventh in 22:25.1. Carlee Boggs was 11th in 23:10.2 to round out the all-conference runners for the Swiss while Ashlyn Covington placed 14th in 23:42.3 to miss the honor by two spots. Bri Stow ran 39th in 32:48.2 while Terra Oeffinger was 32nd in 37:33.0.

Southwestern finished fourth with 81 points and was led by Kirsten Geary, who finished eighth and earned all-conference honors with a time of 22:38.8. Patricia Smith was 17th in 24:48.1, Aleea Crumley was 20th in 25:22.4, Fabiana Orioli35 was 22nd in 26:16.7, and Sandra Laymon was 28th in 29:59.8.

Shawe's Katie Jacobs ran 31st in 35:01.3.

Rising Sun won the boys title with 60 points in a race that saw all five teams finish within 11 points of each other. Southwestern ran second with 63 points and Switzerland was fourth with 67.

Southwestern was led by Joe Drossart, Brandon Smith and Keegan Gross, all earning all-conference, as Drossart was fifth in 18:23.0, Smith was ninth in 18:50.0 and Gross was 11th in 19:08.0. Colton Cloud placed 23rd in 20:34.7, Alex Hitchcock was 31st in 22:23.3, and Ashton Crumley was 36th in 23:36.3 for the Rebels.

Cooper Hon and Nathan Furnish each earned all-conference for Switzerland County. Hon was second overall in 17:59.2 while Furnish was sixth in 18:25.7. Dylan Sullivan was 20th in 20:22.3, Derek Hoskins was 24th in 20:47.3, Kadyn Riley was 29th in 21.33.3, Daniel Whitham was 39th in 24:06.8, and Jackson Sparks was 40th in 24:07.1.

Shawe's Sam Fewell was seventh overall in 18:28.1 to earn all-conference while Wyatt Lundergan missed all-conference by one spot, placing 13th in 19:40.0.

All three schools will return to action on Saturday morning when they compete, along with Madison and others, in the IHSAA Sectional at Hardy Lake.

Cooper runs away late to whip Madison, 51-19

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

For a brief moment, late in the second quarter, Madison had not only a chance to avert a blowout but even challenge for a win in its matchup with Kentucky's Cooper High School on Friday.

Madison, who trailed by three scores early in the second quarter, pulled to within 23-19 with 3:02 left in the second after quarterback Kaden Oliver hit Colin Yancey on a 31-yard touchdown pass.

But any hopes at holding momentum were crushed when Cooper scored right before halftime and then the Jaguars blew open the game over the final two quarters to roll 51-19 and spoil Madison's comeback.

In the end, the Cubs simply ran out of gas against the bigger Jaguars, who dominated the fourth quarter in every phase of the game.

"We played a solid three quarters and that's what it comes down too. You can't play three quarters. You have to play four quarters," Madison coach Leroy Wilson said. "Somewhere between the final bell of the third quarter and the end of the game, we lost focus. There were a couple of big plays that went their way. They were able to capitalize and we weren't and that's what it comes down to."

Cooper (5-2) served notice right off the bat that they were going to run the ball right down the Cubs' throats and they did just that, scoring on a 4-yard run by Brendon Tye for a 7-0 lead less than two minutes into the game.

The Jaguars built on their lead from there, getting a safety when Madison was whistled for an offensive foul in the end zone and the first of Eli White's school-record six rushing touchdowns to take a 16-0 lead. Cooper's lead eventually reached 23-7 early in the second quarter.

But the Cubs roared back and pulled to within four as the offense finally found its groove. Oliver hit Yancey in stride for a 39-yard touchdown pass for Madison's first score and Oliver scrambled away from trouble on the next possession and avoided two sacks before finding Yancey for the second TD. The two-point attempt failed, and the Cubs remained down 23-13.

Myles Moon set up Madison's next score when he stripped a Cooper receiver shortly after the catch to set the Cubs up with good field possession. Oliver and Yancey then hooked up for the third time in the quarter, this time on a 31-yard strike. Jack Kelsey's extra point attempt was blocked, but Madison had pulled within 23-19 with 3:02 left before halftime.

However, Cooper closed out the half strong, scoring on a White 3-yard run with 24 seconds to go to give the Jaguars a 30-19 lead at the break. That momentum swing carried over into the third quarter and, as injuries began to mount for Madison, Cooper began to take control.

White's fourth and fifth touchdowns gave the Jaguars a 44-19 lead after three quarters and his school record sixth score with 9:02 left provided the final margin.

Oliver passed for 202 yards on 16-of-21 attempts — 156 to Yancey on 10 receptions — but the Cubs were held to minus-23 yards on the ground after leading rusher Garrett Gatke was lost to injury in the third quarter.

Meanwhile, Cooper, collected 299 yards on the ground — led by White's 214 — and had 486 total yards thanks to a balanced attack that saw quarterback Drew Warth throw for 187 yards on 14-of-21 attempts.

"We saw what we thought we would see (from Cooper), it just took us a little time to get going," Wilson said. "But we answered in the first half and played well, but they got that late score that really hurt us. They're a good football team. They're very good at what they run on offense, they're really solid up front on defense."

Madison, now 3-4, travels back to Lawrence County on Friday for the second time in three weeks — the Cubs were 21-0 winners at Mitchell on Sept. 24 — to square off against former Hoosier Hills Conference rival Bedford North Lawrence (3-4). Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Hanover's rushing attack produced nearly 400 yards offense as the Panthers rolled over Anderson 49-0 in their Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference opener on Saturday.

Hanover didn't have a single player reach the century mark in rushing on the day, but four different players carried for at least 50 yards. Walt Ballinger led the way with 88 yards on 12 carries, Austin Oppel had 81 yards in seven attempts, Blake Huffman had 53 yards on six attempts and Shawn Coane had 50 yards on 13 carries and set Hanover's school record for career touchdowns.

Hanover (2-2, 1-0 HCAC) got off to a slow start, getting only a Ballinger 8-yard touchdown run in the first quarter

Hanover's Shawn Coane (22) cruises into the end zone with a touchdown during the Panthers' 49-0 rout of Anderson on Saturday. Coane rushed for 50 yards on six carriers with two touchdowns to become the career rushing touchdown leader in Hanover College history with 41 TDs.

Washington Co. strikes early in 48-14 victory over Trimble

BY LAUREN HANEY

Visiting Washington County jumped on Trimble County football early en route to pinning a 34-point loss on the Raiders on Friday in Bedford.

Washington County blew open the game early, scoring six touchdowns in the first half to pull away for the 48-14 win.

"I wasn't here for two days and you can tell," Trimble head coach J.P. Dale said. "The effort in the whole game was there. You take out five plays and it's a whole different ball game. We've got to take care of the small things, that's what keeps biting us in the hind end. I know we'll get to that point. I just hope it's sooner rather than later."

Washington County (3-4) scored its first touchdown inside the first minute of the game and added a second score early in the second to take a lead the Commanders never relinquished. Trailing 20-0, Trimble finally got on the board when quarterback James Thomas Wilcoxson ripped off a 30-yard run and Jessup Smith punched it in from seven yards out and added the two-pointer to close the gap to 20-8.

But Washington County added two more scores to take a 36-8 lead into halftime and scored two additional rushing touchdowns in the third quarter to go ahead 48-8 and trigger a running clock. After numerous penalties, fumbles, and an incomplete touchdown pass, Wilcoxson scored a rushing touchdown for the Raiders for the final score of the night.

"I'm not satisfied with a 34-point loss but like I said if you take five plays away it's a whole different game," said Dale. "We played a pretty good football team. I'm not happy but I'm not distraught. Everything is fixable and we will get it fixed."

Trimble County's Spencer Stark rolls out to pass against the rush of Washington County's defense during Friday's game in Bedford. The Raiders (1-5) lost 48-14.

Wilcoxson finished the game with 172 yards rushing on 13 attempts and also completed 10-of-19 passes for 78 yards with one interception. Smith rushed eight times for 44 yards, Spencer Stark had 31 yards on four attempts and caught three passes for 24 yards, and Tate Ogburn had four receptions for 32 yards.

Trimble, now 1-5, travels to Carroll County on Friday.

Kentucky rallies past No. 10 Florida 20-13 in showdown

BY GARY B. GRAVES
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — On the verge of falling further behind No. 10 Florida, Kentucky quickly swung momentum with several gut-check plays and held on for a memorable victory.

Not to mention, an important one for a Wildcats team with expectations of contending.

Trevin Wallace returned a blocked field goal 76 yards for the go-ahead touchdown late in the third quarter, Chris Rodriguez Jr. had a 9-yard scoring run early in the fourth and Kentucky made a final defensive stand to hold off the Gators 20-13 on Saturday night.

The Southeastern Conference East Division showdown was more of a slog than a slugfest for much of the night, and the Gators (3-2, 1-2) were poised to add Jace Christmann's 48-yard field goal attempt to their 10-7 lead.

Kentucky defensive end Josh Paschal got a hand on the low kick that sent the ball fluttering behind the line to Wallace, who jetted past a tackler on the left sideline and cut back through a small seam to race for the game-changing TD with 6:36 remaining in the third.

"My job is to play like the safety back there in case anything goes wrong," the freshman said. "The ball got tipped and it came right to me. ... I knew what to do when I got the ball. I felt one lineman's hand brush off me and I knew I was gone."

Added Paschal: "They gave me some room for me to get inside and jump and make a big play, and Trevin made a bigger play."

The Wildcats (5-0, 3-0) soon made another to build on their lead.

They turned it over on downs at the Florida 34 to start the fourth quarter but quickly created another opportunity when linebacker J.J. Weaver intercepted Emory Jones' pass for a first down at the Gators 29. That set up Rodriguez's 9-yard TD for a 20-10 cushion with 11:32 remaining.

Florida kept fighting and got within seven on Christmann's 33-yard field goal with 6:23 left before getting the ball again a couple of minutes later and driving to the Kentucky 5. A 4-yard loss on a pass play and false start penalty moved the Gators back to the 14, but they still had a final chance from the 8 before Jacquez Jones swatted away Jones' fourth-down pass with 18 seconds left to seal the win.

Fans stormed the field to celebrate as Kentucky beat Florida at home for the first time since 1986 and took another step toward potentially challenging No. 2 Georgia in the East. The Wildcats are 5-0 for the first time since going 10-3 in 2018 and just the fourth time in the past 70 years.

"Never been a part of a team that had fans storm the field," said Kentucky quarterback Will Levis, a Penn State transfer. "The fans were awesome."

The Wildcats won despite being outgained 382-211, but got a 41-yard TD pass from Levis to Wan'Dale Robinson in the first quarter and 99 yards rushing on 19 carries from Rodriguez.

Eight false starts comprised more than half of Florida's 15 penalties for 115 yards. Jones completed 23 of 31 passes for 203 yards, but the Gators were held way below their average of nearly 541 yards that ranked ninth coming in.

"I mean, you're not going make all the mistakes we made in the course of a game and expect to win," Florida coach Dan Mullen said. "You're not going to win in the SEC doing that."

BRING THE NOISE

Kentucky's loud, boisterous home crowd of 61,632 appeared to disrupt the Gators' cadence and may have contributed to all those false starts. While Florida players chalked it up to lack of focus, Kentucky coach Mark Stoops was happy with the edge the noise gave his team. Especially at the end.

"There was another false start, and thank you, fans,

Spay Today

Save a Life Tomorrow

Did you know that one unspayed female cat can produce 36 cats in just one and a half years? And an unneutered male cat or dog can help create limitless litters!

Every year, millions of animals are euthanized in animal shelters, and millions more are abandoned to die on the streets. The good news is that all these deaths can be prevented with spaying and neutering. Altering animals also prevents deadly cancers and other diseases.

So what are you waiting for? Make an appointment to get your animal friend spayed or neutered today, and urge everyone you know to do the same. Remember, every single stray cat and every neglected dog came from an animal who wasn't spayed or neutered.

for affecting the game," he said.

THREE AND OUT

Both teams struggled on third down. Kentucky entered the game converting 54% of its chances but made just 1 of 8 against Florida. The Gators were just 4 of 13 after entering with a 50% conversion rate.

POLL IMPLICATIONS

Florida figures to drop a few slots with its second SEC loss. Kentucky made a strong case for joining the rankings for the first time since the 2018 season.

THE TAKEAWAY

Florida: The Gators moved the ball with Jones and Anthony Richardson but couldn't finish other than their first TD. Christmann's 51 yard field goal provided an edge, but the block and interception dug a hole they couldn't climb from. The false starts in a loud environment stalled drives and momentum.

"The main thing that we had to come do is handle the environment," Jones said. "I think we did part of the game, but we just had too many penalties."

Kentucky: The Wildcats really had only one sustained drive over 50 yards and committed yet another turnover that nearly cost them until Paschal and Wallace prevented that from happening with a timely special teams play and TD. Weaver's pickoff proved pivotal in a defensive battle.

UP NEXT

Kentucky hosts LSU on Saturday (7:30 p.m. on SEC network).

for a 7-0 lead. But the Panthers scored two touchdowns in each of the final three quarters to turn the game into a rout.

Coane scored on a 3-yard run and Steven Livers caught a 13-yard pass from Matthew Weimer in the second quarter as the Panthers took a 21-0 halftime lead. Coane and Ballinger each had scoring runs in third quarter — 17 and 25 yards respectively, while Oppell scored on an 11-yard run, and Huffman on a 5-yard rush in the fourth.

Weimer finished the game 14-of-18 passing for 151 yards. Eric Roudebush had one reception for 35 yards and Hunter Eads had three for 23.

Defensively, Caleb Brewster logged seven tackles, Devonte Hardiman had six tackles, two sacks and a forced fumble, and Justin Williamson had six tackles. Jaxon Murphy had an interception.

Hanover returns to action on Saturday when it travels to Rose-Hulman.
